TABLE OF CONTENTS

| Acknowledgments | 7 |
|--|----|
| Introduction | 11 |
| Migration and security: determinants of the nexus at the EU level | 19 |
| SECURITY CHALLENGES AND SECURITY GOVERNANCE: THE NEED FOR COORDINATED STRATEGIES | 25 |
| Across the Mare Nostrum: on Mediterranean relations, origin and transit countries | 29 |
| Libya as a strategic country in the 'fight' against irregular immigration | 35 |
| An external challenge to internal security: unpacking the framing of irregular immigration in security terms | 53 |
| From discourses to practices and then to security governance | 65 |
| Implications of a security understanding and governance of irregular immigration | 71 |
| The crisis in Libya, new immigration alarms and European tensions | 77 |
| 2013: Lampedusa again. Towards de-securitization? What remains of securitization moves | 83 |
| Conclusion | 87 |
| Bibliography | 91 |

 $\label{lem:michela} \begin{tabular}{l} Michela Ceccorulli, Framing irregular immigration in security terms: the case of Libya, ISBN 978-88-6655-640-4 (print), ISBN 978-88-6655-642-8 (online), © 2014 Firenze University Press (print), ISBN 978-88-6655-640-4 (print), ISBN 978-88-6655-640-8 (print), Description of the case of Libya, ISBN 978-88-6655-640-4 (print), ISBN 978-88-6655-640-8 (print), Description of the case of Libya, ISBN 978-88-6655-640-8 (print), Description of the case of Libya, ISBN 978-88-6655-640-8 (print), Description of the case of Libya, ISBN 978-88-6655-640-8 (print), Description of the case of Libya, ISBN 978-88-6655-640-8 (print), Description of the case of Libya, ISBN 978-88-6655-640-8 (print), Description of the case of Libya, ISBN 978-88-6655-640-8 (print), Description of the case of Libya, ISBN 978-88-6655-640-8 (print), Description of the case of Libya, Description of Libya, Description of the Case of Libya, Description of the Case of Libya, Description of the Case of Libya, Description o$