

Table of contents

Preface Miriam Castorina, Diego Cucinelli	7
JAPANESE STUDIES
Japanese shōjin ryōri : the green competition from Buddhist temples to TV shows Chiara Ghidini	13
作品集『壁』における食の表象 – 安部公房はその文学に食をどう描いたか Representation of food in the collection of works Kabe : How Abe Kōbō wrote about food in the literature Yūki Sasaki	25
手塚修とグルメ漫画をつなぐもの – 「あしたのジョー」の減量 Tezuka Osamu's Gourmet Manga Natsuki Yamada	45
村上春樹作品における〈食〉と〈性〉 – 初期作品と阪神淡路大地震以後の作品との比較を通して “Food” and “Sex” in Murakami Haruki's literature Makiko Yamasaki	59
Digesting the foreign. Food and Eating in the works of Tawada Yōko Francesco Eugenio Barbieri	77
The politics of washoku : Japan's gastronationalism and gastrodiploacy Felice Farina	93

CHINESE STUDIES

- Negotiating with the tradition: representations of fish in Alai's fictional writing 111
Mario De Grandis, Filippo Costantini
- Eat to remember. Gastronomical reconfigurations of hunger and imprisonment in contemporary Chinese literature 127
Serena De Marchi
- The languages of wine: negotiating intercultural exchanges through translation 143
Chiara Bertulesi, Emma Lupano, Bettina Mottura, Natalia Riva, Yunqi Zhou
- The "dining table revolution" in China: the question read through the lens of newspapers 161
Elena Morandi
- Looking at China's cultural complexity. Food, colours and ritual: sensuous epistemology and the construction of identity in the "other" China 177
Cristiana Turini