

Table of contents

Words and visions around/about Chinese transnational mobilities: Italy and Beyond Valentina Pedone, Miriam Castorina	7
PART 1
Unending Wandering : visions of mobility in Zou Taofen's Italy Miriam Castorina	13
Representations of labour mobility from China to Italy by worker writer Deng Yuehua Valentina Pedone	31
Fears and hopes: Chinese university students in Italy during the first wave of Covid-19 Hao Xu	45
The life of Mario Tchou in the graphic novel La Macchina Zero . A transnational Sino-Italian scientist Andrea Scibetta	61
PART 2
Study in mobility: Tian Dewang and his experience at the University of Florence (1935–1937) Changxu Gao	83

FUP Best Practice in Scholarly Publishing (DOI 10.36253/fup_best_practice)

Valentina Pedone, Miriam Castorina (edited by), Words and visions around/about Chinese transnational mobilities 流动, © 2023 Author(s), CC BY 4.0, published by Firenze University Press, ISBN 979-12-215-0068-4, DOI 10.36253/979-12-215-0068-4

Marco Polo returns to China: Giuliano Montaldo's TV series (1982) Chiara Lepri	99
Chinese returnee students and cultural production: the case of ex- students of Opera in Italy Giuseppe Rizzuto	117
PART 3
Journey to a foreign land: imagining migration in Sinophone Literature from Thailand Rebecca Ehrenwirth	141
Writing for the wor(1)ds: the reflection on language in Yiyun Li's literary production Martina Renata Prosperi	159
Transnational urban encounters: existential wanderings in Xue Yiwei's collection Shenzheners Giulia Rampolla	175