

Editors and Contributors

Editors

HERIBERT HINZEN is a Senior Consultant in Adult Education and Lifelong Learning for Sustainable Development. He worked for DVV International for almost four decades. He is an Honorary Professor at the Universities of Pecs, Budapest and Iasi, and teaches Comparative Adult Education at the University of Würzburg. He has served as Vice-President of the International Council for Adult Education and the European Association for the Education of Adults, and is currently Vice-President of the global network for Promoting, Interrogating and Mobilising Adult Learning and Education. He was a member of the CONFérence INternationale sur l'Education des Adultes VI Consultative Group, the UN Literacy Decade Expert Group, and a delegate to the World Education Fora of 2000 and 2015. He is Honorary Fellow of the UNESCO Institute for Lifelong Learning and a member of the Editorial Board of the International Review of Education – Journal of Lifelong Learning. In 2006 he was inducted into the International Adult and Continuing Education Hall of Fame. Email: hinzenh@hotmail.com

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-9432-6786>

MICHAEL OMOLEWA is a Nigerian diplomat, scholar, education historian, and public servant. From September 2003 to October 2005, he served as the President of 32nd session of the General Conference of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO). While president, Omolewa led UNESCO to adopt the International Declaration on

FUP Best Practice in Scholarly Publishing (DOI 10.36253/fup_best_practice)

Maria Slowey, Heribert Hinzen, Michael Omolewa, Michael Osborne (edited by), Adult Education and Social Justice: International Perspectives, © 2023 Author(s), CC BY 4.0, published by Firenze University Press, ISBN 979-12-215-0253-4, DOI 10.36253/979-12-215-0253-4

Human Genetic Data and the Convention for the Safeguarding of Intangible Cultural Heritage. From January 2000 to August 2009, Omolewa served as ambassador and permanent delegate of Nigeria to UNESCO. At the University of Ibadan, he was Head of the Department of Adult Education, Dean of the Faculty of Education and Chairman of the Committee of Deans of Education of Nigerian Universities. He is Emeritus Professor of Adult Education at the University of Ibadan and Emeritus Professor of History and International Studies at Babcock University, Ilisan Remo, Nigeria. He is a former Deputy Chair of the governing board of the Commonwealth of Learning in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada and member of the Commonwealth Advisory Council on Teacher Mobility, Recruitment and Migrations at the Commonwealth Secretariat, in London. He was inducted into the International Adult and Continuing Education Hall of Fame in Oklahoma, United States in 2008. Email: michaelomolewa@yahoo.co.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-8976-4581>

MICHAEL OSBORNE is Professor of Adult and Lifelong Learning at the University of Glasgow. His research interests include Adult and Continuing Education, Learning Cities, Big Data, International Development, Vocational Education and Training and Higher Education research, development and evaluation. He is also Director of the Centre for Research and Development in Adult and Lifelong Learning within the College of Social Sciences, and Co-director of the PASCAL Observatory on Place Management, Social Capital and Lifelong Learning within the School of Education. In 2022 he was inducted into the International Adult and Continuing Education Hall of Fame. His recent international projects have included “Strengthening the Urban Engagement of Universities in Asia and Africa” funded by the British Academy, and the “Centre for Sustainable, Healthy, Learning Cities and Neighbourhoods”. His previous jointly authored/edited books include: Access, Lifelong Learning and Education for All (Palgrave Macmillan), A New Imperative: Regions and Higher Education in Difficult Times (Manchester University Press), Engagement in African Universities: Perspectives, Prospects and Challenges (NIACE), The Concepts and Practices of Lifelong Learning (Routledge) and Social Capital, Lifelong Learning and the Management of Place: An International Perspective (Routledge). Email: Michael.Osborne@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-1609-385X>

MARIA SLOWEY is Emeritus Professor and Director of the Higher Education Research Centre, Dublin City University, where she was also Vice-President (2004-9). In 1992 she had the honour of succeeding Lalage Bown as Professor and Director of Adult and Continuing Education, Glasgow University. Her research and policy activities focus on the sociology of lifelong learning and equality of access to higher education. She has published widely on these matters, acting as advisor to the major national policy and research bodies, including: OECD, UNESCO, EU, Scottish Parliament, and Higher Education Funding Councils. She has worked extensively in Indonesia on reviews and projects relating to lifelong learning, and held visiting positions in Japan (Centre for Studies of Higher Education, Nagoya University), USA (Graduate School of Education, Stanford and Centre for Studies in Higher Education, UC Berkeley), Australia (Centre for Studies of Higher Education, Melbourne University), and the UK (Homerton College, Cambridge and Kellogg College, Oxford). She is currently Visiting Professor at the University of Florence (Department of Education, Languages, Interculture, Literatures and Psychology) and Senior Editor of Studies in Higher Education. She is Fellow of the (British) Academy of Social Sciences and Member of the International Adult Education Hall of Fame. Email: maria.slowey@dcu.ie

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-5063-6491>

Contributors

ABIMBOLA ABODUNRIN is a Nigerian PhD candidate in Education at the University of Glasgow, currently researching the underrepresentation of women academics of colour in British STEM Higher Education. Abimbola has over 12 years of teaching experience in Nigeria, where he taught both at the junior and senior secondary school levels and rose to the role of a vice-principal (academic). His research interests lie in gender and social inequality issues, especially in academic spaces. Hence, he has presented at several conferences and workshops aimed at charting issues of social change and addressing inequities in education under the aegis of diverse educational institutions and agencies both in the global north and south. Email: a.abodunrin.1@research.gla.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-2853-9641>

GBOLAGADE ADEKANMBI, Professor of Adult Education, is currently the Dean of Education and Acting Deputy Vice Chancellor, Academic Services at the Botswana Open University. His research focuses on Distance Education. From 2008 to 2011, he was Deputy Director, Academic Programming at the Centre for Continuing Education, University of Botswana, and later, the Centre's Acting Director. A Kellogg Visiting Scholar to Syracuse University, USA in 1991, he has published widely. He is a reviewer for the International Review of Research in Open and Distributed Learning (IRRODL). Email: gadekanmbi@staff.bou.ac.bw
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-3858-5994>

RASHID A. ADERINOYE is Professor of Education at the University of Ibadan. An expert in Literacy and Open and Distance Learning, he was a Fellow of the British Council and UNESCO. He was appointed by the Federal Government of Nigeria as Deputy Executive Secretary, Universal Basic Education Commission and Executive Secretary National Commission for Nomadic Education. He was also Chairman, Presidential Visitation Panel to the College of Education Technology Bichi Kano State in 2021. Email: raschidaderinoye@gmail.com
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0009-0005-2149-493X>

AUDU SEMIU AGANAH is a Principal at the Modern International School, Nigeria. He studied Adult Education and Community Development at Bayero University, Nigeria. He is currently, a Masters candidate at the Department of Adult Education and Community Services, Bayero University, Kano, Nigeria. Audu is a teacher, adult educator and community developer. He is a volunteer in Adult Education and Community Development Activities. Email: audusemiu0606@gmail.com
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0009-0004-9317-9122>

MEJAI B.M. AVOSEH is Professor of Adult and Higher Education, University of South Dakota. He has researched and taught Adult Education in Nigeria, Namibia, and the United States. He has undertaken significant work on indigenous epistemology in Adult and Lifelong Education (ALE) as well as in Citizenship Education. He was a subject-matter expert member of the U.S. Delegation to CONFINTEA VII (non-voting). He was Director of the Commission for International Adult Education (CIAE) and Board Member of the American Association for Adult & Continuing Education (AAACE). Mejai is recipient of the 2019 AAACE Outstanding Service Medallion. He is double recipient of the Fulbright Award for U.S. Scholars and a member of the International Adult and Continuing Education Hall of Fame. Email: mejai.avoseh@usd.edu
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-1463-9297>

MAJA AVRAMOVSKA is specialized in Adult Education Policy, Monitoring and Evaluation, and is the author and co-author of several Adult Education and Lifelong Learning Policy documents, strategies, reports and publications. Since 2000 she has been working for DVV International (Institute for International Cooperation of the Deutscher Volkshochschul-Verband e.V, the German Adult Education Association) in several countries. From 2017-22 she was the Regional Director for Caucasus and Southeast Europe at DVV International's Regional Office in Tbilisi, Georgia. Since 2023 she has been working at DVV International's headquarters in Bonn as a Senior Manager for Monitoring and Evaluation, and for the East Africa region. Email: avramovska@dvv-international.de

JEAN BARR is Emeritus Professor at the University of Glasgow where she was Head of Department and Professor of Adult and Continuing Education, and Associate Dean of the Faculty of Education. She has worked for the Open University, the Workers' Educational Association, and the Universities of Warwick and Stirling. She is the author of Common Science (1996, with Lynda Birke); Liberating Knowledge (1999); For a Radical Higher Education (2003, with Richard Taylor and Tom Steele); The Stranger Within: On the Idea of an Educated Public (2008); and The Legacy: A Memoir (2022). She is the film critic for Scottish Review. Email: jean2barr@gmail.com
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0009-0001-1903-7693>

SONJA BELETE is an independent consultant specialising in the fields of Adult Education, Development, Sustainable Livelihoods, Women's Economic Empowerment, and Good Governance. She has authored several manuals, guidelines and articles. The latest is a series of six booklets for DVV International on the ALESBA (Adult Learning and Education Systems Building Approach). Her career with international NGOs such as DVV International, ActionAid, CARE and the UN built her experience in several African countries, particularly in Southern and the East/Horn of Africa regions. Holding positions such as regional director and programme manager provided her the opportunity to manage large scale and multi-sectoral national and regional programmes across micro-meso-macro levels of implementation. Email: beletesonja@gmail.com

ELLEN BOEREN is Professor in Education at the University of Glasgow. In recent years, she has undertaken funded projects with leading international organisations such as the OECD (Thomas J Alexander Fellowship), UNESCO and the European Commission (H2020, Erasmus+). From 2019-22, she was editor of Adult Education Quarterly and in 2019 she co-edited UNESCO's Fourth Global Report on Adult Learning and Education. In 2017, she won the Cyril O. Houle award for outstanding contribution in the Adult Education Literature. In 2023, she commenced a new UK Economic and Social Research Council funded project on the policy use of the statistical evidence base of Adult Education and Learning in the UK and Ireland. Email: Ellen.Boeren@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-2285-5814>

JASON CHAN has been engaged in the field of English language teaching for 20 years both in his native Hong Kong and in Germany, where he has been an Adjunct Lecturer of English and intercultural studies at both private and public Higher Education Institutions. Jason has just finished his PhD dissertation on TESOL teachers and racism in Germany. Email: jason.chan@hotmail.de
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-9167-6086>

PREETI DAGAR is a Lecturer at the School of Education, University of Glasgow. She is currently working on the ESRC-funded international research project – “Gendered Journeys: The trajectories of STEM students through Higher Education and into Employment in India, Rwanda and the UK”. Her doctoral research focused on the complex interaction of international and national refugee education and livelihood policies with lived realities of five distinct refugee communities: Afghan, Rohingya, Somali, Chin and Tibetan. Prior to that, she has worked with indigenous groups in India. Preeti has worked with various international and local organisations such as UNIDO (Austria), UNESCO UIL (Germany), grassroots level NGOs in India, and refugee organisations. Email: Preeti.Dagar@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-3760-9189>

IEVGENIIA DRAGOMIROVA is currently a Research Fellow at University of Glasgow as part of the Researchers at Risk Program supported by British Academy. She has 16 years teaching experience. In 2014 she joined the International Relations Office at Donetsk State University of Management in Ukraine and became an active supporter of the internationalisation process of the university. She took up the position of Director of a University of the Third Age Centre which involved the management and promotion of life-long learning for senior people working both through the University and in the local community. Her research interests included lifelong learning and creating educational opportunities for older people, including migrants and internationally displaced people. Email: ievgeniia.dragomirova@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-9692-6606>

BRIAN FINDSEN is Emeritus Professor, formerly Professor of (Adult) Education at the Universities of Glasgow (2004-8) and Waikato (2008-19), has spent most of his working life in the field of Adult Education. His main research interests include Learning in Later Life, Social Equity issues, and International Adult Education. Brian has (co)written and edited several books, and published extensively on later life learning. Since 2019, he has continued to undertake occasional academic work and was a visiting Scholar in Adult and Continuing Education at the National Chung Cheng University in Chiayi, Taiwan. This engagement resulted in his co-editing the 2022 book, Taiwan's Senior Learning Movement. In New Zealand he is the current chair of the Age Friendly Hamilton Steering Group, under the auspices of the Hamilton City Council. Email: brianfindsen@gmail.com
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-1276-8159>

UWE GARTENSCHLAEGER studied History, Political Science and Philosophy at the Universities of Berlin and Cologne. After working for four years with a church-based Adult Education provider specialized on topics of reconciliation and history, he joined DVV International in 1995. DVV International is the leading professional organization in the field of Adult Learning and Education (ALE) and Development Cooperation. The main focus is on improving the framework conditions for ALE and offering capacity building for the partners. Within the Institute he held the positions of Country Director in Russia, and Regional Director in Central Asia as well as for Southeast-Asia. Since 2019 Uwe Gartenschlaeger has been DVV International's Deputy Director and President of the European Association for the Education of Adults (EAEA), the main European ALE network with around 120 members from 43 countries. Email: gartenschlaeger@dvv-international.de

BUDD HALL was first appointed as Research Officer to the Institute of Adult Education and the University of Dar es Salaam in 1970. He was co-organizer with Professor Lalage Bown of the African Adult Education Association Conference in Dar es Salaam in 1971. He was the Conference Secretary of the 1976

International Council for Adult Education's World Assembly of Adult Education. He served as Secretary-General of the ICAE from 1979-1991 and worked on and off with Professor Bown during those years. He is currently Professor Emeritus, University of Toronto and Victoria and Co-Chair, UNESCO Chair in Community-Based Research and Social Responsibility in Higher Education. He is also a poet. Email: bhall@uvic.ca
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-0478-4546>

SAMIR HALLIRU is a lecturer in Adult Education and Community Development at Bayero University, Kano. He is currently a Visiting Research Fellow and Affiliate Member of CR&DALL at the University of Glasgow. His research interest is Lifelong Learning, Community Development and Social Justice, Youth and Women Empowerment. He is also interested in Mental Health and Well-being at Higher Education. Samir is a member of the board of the Standing Conference on the University Teaching and Research on the Education of the Adults (SCUTREA), United Kingdom (Responsible for Africa). Samir is a member of Sustainable Futures in Africa (SFA) at the University of Glasgow. He is a member of the Editorial Board of International Journal of Educational Research Open, United Kingdom. He was a visiting scholar at International Master of Adult Education for Social Change at the University of Glasgow. Email: shalliru.ade@buk.edu.ng
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0101-8072>

ROBERT HAMILTON is an Honorary Senior Lecturer at the University of Glasgow and a tutor at the Centre for Lifelong Learning, University of Strathclyde. He previously coordinated postgraduate programmes in Adult Education at the University of Glasgow where he also served as Head of the programme of short courses for the general public. Robert has published extensively on the history of Adult Education. His most recent book titled Dr Martin Luther King Jr and the Poor People's Campaign of 1968 was published by the University of Georgia Press in 2021. Email: Robert.Hamilton@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0009-0000-8771-2331>

ANNE RUHWEZA KATAHOIRE, Professor of Social Behavioral Sciences, is a significant figure in Adult and Community Education at Makerere University. She was instrumental in developing the adult and community education curriculum and training professionals in this field at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. Additionally, she held leadership positions as Head of the Department of Adult Education and Deputy Director of the Institute of Adult and Continuing Education. Professor Katahoire is also a published author in the area of Adult Education and served on the Editorial Board for the Africa Textbook Series on African Perspectives on Adult Learning. Email: anne.ruhweza.katahoire@gmail.com
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-3520-070X>

LEVAN KVATCHADZE has over 20 years experience of professional work in the Education Sector. As a manager of development-oriented projects funded by the German Federal Government, head of DVV International's Representations abroad, team leader of a number of EU-projects and international expert & policy advisor, he has gained profound knowledge and understanding of international education systems and possess deep experience in implementation of large-scale projects in the fields of Vocational Education and Training, Adult Learning and Education and Lifelong Learning. In 2004 he joined DVV International, and from this time his duties have been at DVV headquarters in Bonn and within its offices. Currently as the regional Director for the 'Eastern Neighbours' region, Levan is responsible for DVV International's project work in the Eastern Europe (Republic of Moldova, Ukraine, Regional component). From 2008 to 2010 Levan was a member of the executive board of the European Association for the Education of Adults (EAEA). Email: kvatchadze@dvv-international.org.ua

CATHERINE LIDO is Professor in Psychology and Adult Learning at the University of Glasgow. She is a Social Psychologist with a PhD in gender stereotypes in the workplace, and over 20 years' researching diversity, prejudice and educational inequalities. She is also Associate Director of Urban Big Data Centre and Deputy Director of the PASCAL International Observatory for Europe. Catherine is passionate about harnessing mixed-methods and novel data to address inequalities in Learning Cities, and maintains a strong media presence, regularly appearing on BBC radio and in other media outlets. Email: Catherine.Lido@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-6255-9905>

The late SRABANI MAITRA was Professor in Sociology of Adult and Vocational Education at the University of Glasgow. She was also one of the leads for the College of Social Sciences Interdisciplinary Research Theme 'Addressing Inequalities' and Acting Deputy Head of School of Education. Her research combined interdisciplinary theories and methodologies from sociology and education to focus on the issues of education/learning, workplace skill training, race/racism and decolonisation. Her pedagogy too, underpinned by a social justice lens, was committed towards foregrounding suppressed voices, anti-racist and anti-colonial education as well as systemic changes. She was part of research projects, funded by Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (Canada) as well as Global Challenges Research Fund (UK) focusing on migrants and refugees in Canada, young people in vocational education in India and Mexico as well as women in STEM fields in India, Rwanda and the UK. She died far too young in December 2023, and is sorely missed by her family, friends and colleagues. Email: Srabani.Maitra@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-1840-1294>

ROB MARK is Honorary Senior Research Fellow and part-time tutor at Glasgow University. Formerly he was Head of Lifelong Learning at Strathclyde University,

Glasgow and Director of Education and Research at Queens University Belfast. He also worked until recently as a Visiting Scholar at Dublin City University on an age friendly university project. His research interests include lifelong learning, with a special emphasis on later life. His publications include Adult Basic Education, literacy development in international context and the education of excluded groups including immigrants. He has also published in the field of Lifelong Learning and City Development, and on Environmental Education, Climate Change and Lifelong Learning. He was until recently Editor of the Adult Learner Journal in Ireland and has served on a number of committees on lifelong learning both at national and international level. Email: Rob.Mark@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4493-4000>

RUPHINA U. NWACHUKWU is an Associate Professor in the Department of Adult Education and Extra-Mural Studies in the University of Nigeria Nsukka and serving as an Open and distance learning coordinator. Ruphina Lectured for many years in Chinese Universities. She studied Adult Education in Nanjing and Nigeria Universities. She was a recipient of UNESCO /China Great wall Fellowship and Distinguished Scholarship Award from Chinese government. She has published severally in her research interests of Adult Education, Women's Education, Distance Education, Rural Education, Education Technology, Distance Education and game based learning. Email: ruphina.nwachukwu@unn.edu.ng
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-6618-1252>

STELLA C. NWIZU is a Professor in the Department of Adult Education and Director, Centre for Distance and e-Learning, University of Nigeria, Nsukka. She is an expert in Adult and Non-Formal Education with speciality in Extension and Distance Education. Stella was a former Head, Department of Adult Education and Dean, Faculty of Education at the same University. She has worked extensively on skills training for adults, integration of Information and Communication Technologies in Education, and Programme Development in Extension and Distance Education. Professor Nwizu is the Secretary, Centre for Educational Development and Skills Empowerment, a non-governmental and non-profit organisation focusing on Education and Vocational Training for Nigerians including women. She has published extensively in both national and international journals. She has won various awards including the International Travels Award of the Comparative and International Education Society, San Francisco in 2018. Email: stella.nwizu@unn.edu.ng
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-8360-1220>

OLUWAYEMISI OBASHORO-JOHN is a Professor of Adult Education in the Department of Adult Education, University of Lagos. She joined the University of Lagos in 1994, rising to the rank of Professor in 2011, and continues to serve in various capacities in the University. Her areas of focus are ageing issues, applied gerontology, language study and programme evaluation. She is a current member of several professional bodies: Board Member, International Society for Comparative Adult Education; Member, Nigerian National Council for Adult Education; Fellow and National President/Chairman-in-Council, Chartered Institute of Social Work Practitioners of Nigeria; Distinguished Fellow, Institute of Security, Nigeria; Fellow and Former President/Chairman-in-Council, Institute of Strategic Management, Nigeria (2014-16). Email: oobashoro-john@unilag.edu.ng

ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-4557-5006>

AKPOVIRE ODUARAN is Extraordinary Professor of Adult and Lifelong Learning and Research Fellow at the North-West University in South Africa. He has authored over a hundred publications including five books. He was Head Department of Adult Education, University of Benin, Nigeria; Department of Adult Education, University of Botswana. At North-West University (NWU) South Africa he was Director, Schools for Continuing Education, and Teacher Education and Training, Executive Dean, Education and Training and National Research Foundations of South Africa rated researcher. Email: Akpovire.Oduaran@nwu.ac.za
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-3683-3720>

NANCY PALACIOS is a Professor in the Faculty of Education at the Universidad de los Andes in Bogotá, Colombia. Her fields of work are the teaching and learning of social sciences, the relationship between pedagogical practices and learning, ethno-educational pedagogical practices and teacher training. She is interested in bringing scientific knowledge into dialogue with the knowledge of rural communities and in promoting student learning based on knowledge of the dynamics of everyday contexts. Email: n.palaciosm@uniandes.edu.co
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-1318-0728>

MIA PERRY is a Professor of Arts and Literacies Education at the University of Glasgow. Her work in education spans inside and outside schools, community and public contexts, digital and informal learning. She is particularly interested in the interplay of humans and environments, the role of cultural practice and play in learning, and perspectives in research that account for plural views and ways of making meaning. Email: Mia.Perry@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0886-7093>

MARCELA RAMOS is a Research Fellow in Education and Sustainability at the University of Glasgow. She is particularly interested in exploring and understanding the exercise and limitations of sustainable practices within unequal and challenging contexts in the Global South. To this end, she is deeply engaged with political ecology and political economy, and qualitative research methods shaped by human geography and engagement across disciplines. Email: Marcela.Ramos@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-2782-7617>

BONNIE SLADE is a Professor of Adult Education for Social Change at the School of Education at the University of Glasgow. She is the Programme Leader for the International Master in Adult Education for Social Change (Erasmus Mundus).

Her main research focus is on how adult education, across a variety of contexts (workplace, higher education, community) can work as a tool for social change and individual empowerment. She sits on the Editorial Boards of the International Journal of Lifelong Education, the European Journal for Research on the Education and Learning of Adults (RELA), and the Malta Review of Educational Research and is the Book Reviews Editor for the Journal of Adult and Continuing Education. From 2020 to 2023 she has served as the Chair of the Standing Conference on University Teaching and Research in the Education of Adults. Email: Bonnie.Slade@glasgow.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-9737-7004>

RICHARD TAYLOR is Emeritus Professorial Fellow, Wolfson College, Cambridge University. He was Professor and Director of Continuing Education and Lifelong Learning at Cambridge from 2004-9, and previously held a similar position at the University of Leeds, where he was also Dean of the Faculty of Business, Law, Education and Social Sciences. He has been Chair of the Trustees of the Workers Education Association, and of the Policy Committee of NIACE, and Secretary of the Universities Association of Continuing Education. He has been a member of several Higher Education Funding Council for England Committees including the Widening Participation and Access Strategic Committee. He is the author, co-author or editor of 14 books, including English Radicalism in the 20th Century (Manchester University Press), Labour and Higher Education 1945-2000 (Continuum), For a Radical Higher Education: Against Postmodernism (SRHE/Open University Press). Email: richardkstaylor321@gmail.com

ALAN TUCKETT is Emeritus Professor of Education at the University of Wolverhampton. Alan worked at a small voluntary Adult Education Centre in Brighton, 1973-81, helping to start the national adult literacy campaign in the UK. From 1981-88 he was principal of a large Adult Education College in inner London, and from 1988-2011 was Director and CEO of the National Institute of Adult Continuing Education in England and Wales. He started Adult Learners' Week in the UK in 1992. Alan was President of the International Council for Adult Education (2011-2015) and Professor of Education at Wolverhampton University 2015-20. Alan is an Honorary Fellow of UNESCO's Institute of Lifelong Learning, Distinguished Professor at the Indian Institute of Adult Education in Delhi, has honorary doctorates from 8 universities, and Fellowship of City and Guilds and the College of Teaching. He was knighted for services to Adult Education in 2018. Email: Alan.Tuckett@wlv.ac.uk
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-7475-4727>

SHIRLEY WALTERS is a Scholar-Activist concerned with socio-ecological justice. She has appreciated Lalage Bown's contribution to Adult Education in parts of Africa over years. Shirley is Professor Emerita of Adult and Continuing Education at the University of the Western Cape (UWC), South Africa, where she was Founding Director of UWC's Centre for Adult and Continuing Education and

Division for Lifelong Learning. She has been active within justice oriented civil society organisations for over 40 years both locally and globally. She is currently President of Pascal International Members Association (PIMA) and was Vice President (Africa) of the International Council for Adult Education (ICAE). She has served on various national committees, including as Chair of South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA) from 2004-10, chair of the multi-stakeholder Learning Cape, and on the Transformation Oversight Committee for Public Higher Education. Awards include an Honorary Doctorate from University of Linköping (2001); induction into the International Adult and Continuing Education Hall of Fame and as a Fellow of the UNESCO Institute for Lifelong Learning (UIL). Email: ferris@iafrica.com
ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-4841-6764>