

Contents

|  |   |
|--|---|
| Preface , by Giuseppe Albertoni, Manuel Fauliri, Leonardo Sernagiotto | 1 |
| Works cited  | 6 |

I. Acting as aristocrats, aspiring to the aristocracy

|   |    |
|---|----|
| Being an aristocrat in the kingdom of Italy in the age of Lothar I , by François Bougard | 11 |
| 1. Introduction   | 13 |
| 2. Aristocracy vs elites   | 14 |
| 3. Counts, bishops, and abbots: the immigrant aristocracy, its settlement and its resources     | 16 |
| 4. The second circle: vassals, gastalds, and others   | 27 |
| 5. Social practices: some examples  | 35 |
| 6. Conclusions  | 38 |
| Works cited   | 40 |
| Lothar I and the visibility of the female aristocracy , by Cristina La Rocca             | 45 |
| 1. Introduction   | 46 |
| 2. The queen and her integrity  | 47 |
| 3. Fragile women  | 55 |

FUP Best Practice in Scholarly Publishing (DOI 10.36253/fup_best_practice)

Giuseppe Albertoni, Manuel Fauliri, Leonardo Sernagiotto (edited by), Aristocratic networks. Elites and social dynamics in Italy in the age of Lothar I, © Author(s), CC BY 4.0, published by Firenze University Press, ISBN 979-12-215-0771-3, DOI 10.36253/979-12-215-0771-3

|                |    |
|----------------|----|
| 4. Conclusions | 64 |
| Works cited    | 66 |

|  |    |
|--|----|
| Writing for aristocrats, writing as aristocrats: notarial strategies and graphic self-representation in the documentation of the elites of the regnum , by Gianmarco De Angelis, Laura Pani | 69 |
| 1. Introduction  | 71 |
| 2. Between cartule and decreta : agency, communication, writing patterns   | 73 |
| 3. Writing as aristocrats  | 82 |
| 4. Conclusions   | 91 |
| Works cited  | 92 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Monasteries in the middle? Local elites and monastic landscapes in Carolingian Lombardy , by Francesco Veronese | 95  |
| 1. Introduction: monasteries in the middle?  | 96  |
| 2. Can a monastery protected by kings be in the middle? Lothar I, Pavia and S. Maria Teodote                           | 98  |
| 3. Between the city and the countryside: monasteries in the middle in Carolingian Milan                                | 103 |
| 4. Between a bishop and the lands of his church: Brescia and S. Faustino Maggiore                                      | 107 |
| 5. Conclusions   | 111 |
| Works cited  | 114 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Aristocratic land ownership. Land ownership between the centre and the hinterland as represented in the language of notarial deeds , by Anna Rapetti | 119 |
| 1. Recording land and property  | 120 |
| 2. Landowners in the Venetian Lagoon and the Po Plain   | 124 |
| 3. A developing agrarian landscape  | 128 |
| 4. Rivers and other waters between town and country   | 132 |
| 5. Conclusions  | 135 |
| Works cited   | 136 |

II. Aristocratic networks between center and peripheries

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| A Carolingian suite: the Supponids in Italy until the death of Lothar (814-855) , by Igor Santos Salazar | 141 |
| 1. Introduction   | 142 |
| 2. A new family in the regnum  | 143 |
| 3. The soldier's tale   | 146 |
| 4. Ministri rei publice  | 149 |
| 5. Aristocratic ethos   | 152 |
| 6. Beyond Lothar: a conclusion  | 155 |
| Works cited   | 158 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| So far, so close. Lothar I and the interweaving of relationships between the aristocracies of Veneto and Alemannia , by Leonardo Sernagiotto | 161 |
| 1. A problematic transition   | 163 |
| 2. Concordia Imperii   | 166 |
| 3. Bad times, good times  | 173 |
| 4. Arrivederci, Italia!   | 180 |
| 5. Conclusions  | 182 |
| Works cited   | 185 |
|   |     |
| Aristocracies in the Tuscany of Lothar I: birth and structuring of a social network , by Paolo Tomei   | 189 |
| 1. Halfway between Siena e Chiusi   | 192 |
| 2. The second cohort  | 194 |
| 3. Vassals and chaplains  | 197 |
| 4. In the area of Tuscania  | 200 |
| 5. Under the marquis' wing  | 202 |
| Works cited   | 209 |
|   |     |
| Aiming at the aristocracy: social mobility in Lucca at the time of Lothar I , by Manuel Fauliri  | 213 |
| 1. Introduction   | 215 |
| 2. The Sons of Dundulus   | 217 |
| 3. The Sons of Guntulus   | 223 |
| 4. The Sons of Iltifridus   | 228 |
| 5. Conclusions  | 229 |
| Appendix  | 232 |
| Family trees  | 236 |
| Works cited   | 238 |
|   |     |
| The aristocracies of Rome in the age of Lothar , by Veronica West-Harling  | 241 |
| 1. Introduction: the absence of a visible Frankish aristocracy in Rome  | 242 |
| 2. What constitutes the "Roman aristocracy"?  | 244 |
| 3. The first Carolingians, the popes and the Roman elites   | 244 |
| 4. Lothar's support of the Roman aristocracies: the crisis of Pope Paschal I  | 246 |
| 5. Lothar's support of the Roman aristocracies: Pope Sergius II and Benedict  | 250 |
| 6. Lothar's supporters and spies: the affair of the two superista  | 252 |
| 7. Conclusions  | 253 |
| Works cited   | 254 |
|   |     |
| Who wrote the life of Leo IV? Gratian, the superista, and his network , by Maddalena Betti   | 257 |
| 1. Preliminary notes on the pontificate of Leo IV (847-855)   | 258 |
| 2. The life of Leo IV: a cumbersome first-person narration  | 259 |
| 3. Roman proceres in the life of Leo IV   | 264 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 4. Who wrote the life of Leo IV? Gratian, the superista , and his network                                 | 266 |
| Works cited  | 271 |
| Aristocracy in Ravenna in the age of Lothar I: integration and historical memory , by Edward M. Schoolman | 273 |
| 1. Introduction  | 274 |
| 2. Sources   | 275 |
| 3. Lothar, Ravenna, and inconsistent historiography  | 277 |
| 4. Identifying aristocracy in Ravenna's charters   | 280 |
| 5. Conclusion  | 285 |
| Works cited  | 287 |
| Framing the Beneventan aristocracy in the first half of the ninth century , by Giulia Zornetta            | 289 |
| 1. Introduction  | 290 |
| 2. Dwelling in the City: Königsnähe and participation to public power                                     | 293 |
| 3. Fidelitas and military duties: some notes on Beneventan warrior identity                               | 298 |
| 4. Distributing wealth, forging relationships: the patrimonial basis of the Beneventan elite                     | 301 |
| 5. Conclusions   | 305 |
| Works cited  | 307 |
| Conclusions , by Stefano Gasparri   | 311 |
| Works cited  | 319 |
| Index of Persons   | 321 |
| Index of Place Names and Ethnonyms   | 331 |